

Brendan McGinty is the Director of Industry for the National Center for Supercomputing Applications (NCSA) at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign (UIUC), where he leads the world's largest industrial high-performance computing (HPC) program. His teams provide solutions to corporate and government challenges in the areas of modeling and simulation, bioinformatics, data analytics, visualization, and cybersecurity. Brendan also serves as Executive Director for the Center for Digital Agriculture and Director of Industry for the Center for Artificial Intelligence at UIUC. Brendan was a longtime corporate consultant and is a UIUC alumnus.